Area 51

Area 51, secret U.S. Air Force military installation located at Groom Lake in southern Nevada. It is administered by Edwards Air Force Base in southern California. The installation has been the focus of numerous conspiracies involving extraterrestrial life, though its only confirmed use is as a flight testing facility.

For years there was speculation about the installation, especially amid growing reports of UFO sightings in the vicinity. The site became known as Area 51, which was its designation on maps of the Atomic Energy Commission. Conspiracy theories gained support in the late 1980s, when a man alleging to have worked at the installation claimed that the government was examining recovered alien spacecraft.

In 2013 the U.S. government officially acknowledged the existence of Area 51. That year the National Security Archive at the George Washington University obtained through the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) a formerly classified CIA document that chronicled the history of the U-2 spy plane; a heavily redacted version had previously been released in 1998. According to the report, in 1955 the remote site—which included an airfield not used by the military since World War II—was selected in order to test the U-2. Test flights of that spy plane, and subsequent aircraft, accounted for many of the UFO sightings in the area; the U-2 could reach altitudes much higher than any other planes at the time. After the U-2 was put into service in 1956, Area 51 was used to develop other aircraft, including the A-12 (also known as OXCART) reconnaissance plane and the stealth fighter F-117 Nighthawk.

A directed-energy weapon (DEW) is a type of weapon that emits energy in an aimed direction without the means of a projectile. It transfers energy to a target for a desired effect. The energy can come in various forms: Electromagnetic radiation (typically lasers or masers). Particles with mass (particle beam weapons). Sound (sonic weaponry). Electromagnetic weapons are a type of directed energy weapons which use electromagnetic radiation to deliver heat, mechanical, or electrical energy to a target to cause pain or permanent damage. They can be used against humans, electronic equipment, and military targets generally, depending on the technology hen used against equipment, directed electromagnetic energy weapons can operate similarly to omnidirectional electromagnetic pulse (EMP) devices, by inducing destructive voltage within electronic wiring. The difference is that they are directional and can be focused on a specific target using a parabolic reflector. Faraday cages may be used to provide protection from most directed and undirected EMP effects. High-energy radio frequency weapons (HERF) or high-power radio frequency weapons (HPRF) use high intensity radio waves to disrupt electronics. High Power Microwave devices use microwave radiation, which has a shorter wavelength than radio. directed energy weapons. The equipment, based on microwave, infrasound, neuro science, biofeedback, and other technology, has the capability to administer a variety of effects when remotely directed at the victim either while inside their homes or away from their homes. headaches, laser-like burns, rashes, sharp pains that feel like electrical shocks, mood alteration, and neurological trauma. Use against humans Generally considered 'non-lethal weapons', electromagnetic weaponry do however pose health threats to humans.

In fact, "non-lethal" weapons can be deadly". Some common bio-effects of electromagnetic or other non-lethal weapons include effects to the human central nervous system resulting in physical pain, difficulty breathing, vertigo, nausea, disorientation, or other systemic discomfort, as weapons not directly considered lethal can indeed cause cumulative damage to the human body. Short exposure to intense radiation can cause heart seizure and a wide range of physical disorders. silent, covert war the targeting of specific individuals These devices are deliberately designed and used - so as not to leave evidence. Each victim has an individual story but also has a noted consistency in the abuse and the terrible health problems that affect all casualties of EMF/DEW irradiation. EMP, Pulse and Direct Energy weapons, contrary to the propaganda and lies are extremely lethal. These weapons are used to terrorize a targeted person over a period of time. These weapons come in the form of vibrations, which can be used to target a specific organ in the body causing scar tissue to form leading to the death of that organ. These weapons can cause heart attacks and strokes. There are approximately 100 plus vibrations that attack the heart. There are vibrations that cause panic attacks and sleep deprivation. There are vibrations which cause a targeted person to go mad and/or crazy, as well as many other capabilities. All that would show up in an autopsy is that the person died from natural causes.

What Are The Effects Of These Directed Energy Weapons?

It is well known and well documented that microwave and extremely low frequency (ELF) and Extremely low frequency sonic and electromagnetic frequencies can disorient and disrupt human functioning, cause memory loss and confusion. These directed energy weapons can cause nausea, ringing in the ears, fatigue, headaches, heart attacks, cancer, strokes, and a variety of other symptoms.
